FenceART 2017: a Rotating Public Art Project

FenceART is a juried public art project: Banners of juried artwork rotate to various Newton public fence locations for approximately 10 weeks at a time, in groups of 3 to 5 works. Accepted works will be printed as heavy-duty full color outdoor banners. A jury of professional artists, assembled by Newton Open Studios, will make the selection of art. Funding provided by Newton Community Pride.

All artists who reside, work, or participate in art classes in the City of Newton are invited to submit work for this public art project. Artists may submit jpegs of work in any media, including but not limited to photography, painting, quilting, collage, and photos of sculpture.

There is no application fee.

Beginning in September 2017, banners will be hung for 10 months to 1 year, rotating to approximately 5 outdoor locations during that time. Artists may claim the banner (as is) at the end of the rotation period, in September 2018.

Timeline:

Deadline for 2017 submissions: June 14 .

Selected artists contacted June 30

Larger images of accepted work due by July 13

Submitting:

- Submit up to 3 images. Each image for the JUDGING PHASE should be at least 1200 pixels in the longer dimension, and up to 2 meg in size.
- Submit images by email with a subject line of "Newton FenceArt Submission" to submission@newtonopenstudios.org
- Attach images as "actual size" or your email program will shrink them before sending.

Chosen images must be available at a larger size:

at least 4000 pixels in the larger dimension, and optimally 7200 in the larger dimension, up to 12 meg. Artists who's work is chosen give FenceART permission to use the image in promotional materials.

Submissions will receive an acknowledgement email reply. If you do not receive an acknowledgement email, please send an inquiry email WITHOUT jpegs attached, so we can diagnose why the email failed to reach us.

Attribution:

Artist name, image title, and artist website will be included on the banner by the signage team. Other than a signature that may already be included on the ORIGINAL artwork, please leave attribution to the signage team.
